InBev announces Zone leadership changes

InBev (Euronext: INB) announced today that Miguel Patricio has been appointed Zone President Asia Pacific, and will lead the team there on the next steps toward developing a sustainable and profitable platform for our business.

Miguel has been Zone President North America since January 2006, during which time he has provided strong leadership and guidance in strengthening the Zone's disciplined sales execution and in preparing the business for long-term competitiveness. He joined the company in 1998, having had previous international experience with Philip Morris, Coca-Cola and Johnson & Johnson in Brazil, Central America and the United States.

Miguel's successor in North America will be Bernardo Pinto Paiva.

Bernardo, who joined the company in 1991 and is a former management trainee, is currently Head of Sales for the company's largest business unit – Brazil. He becomes the newest member of the Executive Board of Management and brings with him a track record of leadership experience in Supply, Sales and Distribution, as well as Finance.

Reflecting the importance of China in InBev's global footprint, Dirk Moens, who has built a strong foundation for our growth in Asia Pacific since taking over as Zone President in May 2006, will remain in Shanghai and is appointed Chairman InBev China. In this role Dirk will provide support to Miguel in strengthening relationships with the government, joint venture partners and other key stakeholders, leveraging his vast knowledge of our Chinese operations and the market.

All of these changes will be effective January 1, 2008.

"Miguel and Bernardo both bring the right experience, skills and values to continue to build the long-term successful future of our Asia Pacific and North America operations. We are also grateful that Dirk will continue to provide support along our challenging journey in China", said Carlos Brito, InBev's Chief Executive Officer.
